Caroline Rudolphine Bohn (nee Unterberg) was widowed in 1835 Hanover, Germany. She was left with the care of five daughters and one son between the ages of three and sixteen. In 1840 her 20 year old daughter Henriette Georgina also passed away. Caroline had a son with much younger Heinrich Nagel in 1837 and they married three years later on 3rd May 1840 at Paul-Gerhardt Church, Lauthenthal. Heinrich and Caroline immigrated to Australia in 1846 on the ship Heerjeebhoy Rustomjee Patel with their son Wilhelm Friedrich Christian Nagel, aged 9, and Caroline's remaining children, Heinrich Christian Bohn aged 13, Christiane Caroline Juliane Bohn aged 15, and Caroline Wilhelmine Bohn aged 20.

Heinrich Nagel's youngest brother Christian Ernst Louis Nagel married Caroline's eldest daughter Caroline Augustina Bohn on 9th February 1845 in Lauthenthal and had two sons, Ernest Heinrich August (Henry Charles) in 1844 and Friedrich in 1847. The family emigrated to Australia on George Washington in 1848 with Caroline's younger sister Johanne Henriette Augustine Bohn b1823. They were among the first group of emigrants to be assisted by a new Government scheme. After fourteen days at sea an outbreak of Cholera claimed their youngest son Friedrich, he died on 8th November 1848 aged 14 months. Ernst and Augustina were to have a further seven children born in Australia

Two marriages of Johanna Caroline Rudolphine Unterberg
